

Weekly Intelligencer.

LEXINGTON, MO.
WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1862.

FOR PRESIDENT.
HORACE GREELEY,
OF NEW YORK
FOR VICE PRESIDENT.
B. GRATZ BROWN, OF MISSOURI

A CARD.

To the Readers of the Intelligencer,

Having determined to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, and believing that the editor of a county paper should be in a position to criticize impartially any one who offers for office, I have withdrawn from my connection whatever with the Intelligencer, that I may be relieved from a delicate situation and leave the editors of the paper embarrassed in the discharge of their duties.

With my sincere thanks to you for your kind sympathy and support during my editorial career, I take leave of you in that capacity, earnestly recommending to you the Intelligencer as a paper in every way worthy of your hearty support.

WILLIAM YOUNG.

We publish this week, with sincere regret, a card from Mr. Wm. Young, announcing his withdrawal from the Intelligencer. We, together with the people of Lafayette, owe him a debt of gratitude for the valuable services rendered to the county in originating and helping to build up a paper to which the people could look as a faithful advocate of their rights and true guardian of their interests. Our association with him in the duties of the office has ever been of the most pleasant character. While we can but regret his withdrawal, and miss his able assistance in our editorial duties, we shall be connected with our new associate, Mr. Davis, put forth more vigorous efforts than ever to render the Intelligencer worthy of the continued support and confidence of the people.

THE NOMINATIONS.

The action of the Baltimore convention in nominating Greeley and Brown, has been the subject of much discussion by Democrats, and as was to be expected, with great controversy of opinion as to its wisdom, although universal acquiescence is given to it.

For our part, we are convinced that it was the wisest step that could have been taken. We confess that our minds are too obtuse to perceive any difference between naming a man for office by a party, and voting for him by every member of that party.

Mr. Connor, of South Carolina, said the reconstruction acts and the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Constitutional amendments were "the best and fairest opinion" whether than the "Government, and superior to any declarations by a convention." (Applause). There was nothing left in this issue, however, to save the nation from destruction, and the adoption of another organization, or nomination of other men not chosen by this convention, and asked a separate vote on such resolution.

The previous question was submitted by a vote of 350 ayes to 175 nays. The entire assembly voted in favor of the motion to adjourn.

Mr. Moore, formerly of Liberty, was killed in the neighborhood of Hanesville, several days ago, by his own brother. On examination of young Moore it was proved that he acted only in self-defense, and that the deceased had repeatedly threatened his life.

The previous question was submitted by a vote of 350 ayes to 175 nays. The entire assembly voted in favor of the motion to adjourn.

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce." He said there were loud hisses at the close of the ball, when DeWitt voted no, there were loud hisses.

At the close of the ball, when DeWitt voted no, there were loud hisses. The chairman appealed to the committee to adjourn the vote of Alabama before the vote of Missouri.

Before the vote was announced, premium was asked by the Chairman of the Alabama delegation to name an adjournment and postpone the vote. One of the leading members of the delegation, and subsequently the most prominent in the North, voted to adjourn the vote.

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

Mr. Moore, of Troup, made an eloquent speech, calling the debate "a farce."

THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION.

Report of the Proceedings—Nomination of Greeley and Brown on the First Ballot.

At ten o'clock A. M. on Tuesday, the 29th inst., the National Democratic convention met in Baltimore, and voted to order by August 1st, the nomination of Mr. Clapperton, of Mississippi; it was also made unanimous.

Mr. Banck, of Wisconsin, moved a resolution to the effect that the convention would, on the 29th, adjourn to meet again on the 1st of September, to consider the nomination of Mr. Clapperton, of Mississippi, and the Clapperton platform, and concluded his speech by proposing Thomas Jefferson Randolph, grandson of the author of the Declaration of Independence, as temporary chairman of the convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Payne, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers of the convention and others were adopted, and the Chairman invoked the blessing of Providence upon the efforts of the Convention.

Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, moved to amend by adding the President of the convention, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Heathson, of Ohio, a resolution was adopted that on adjourning the convention would, with notice, escort the New York and Missouri delegations to their quarters.

Votes of thanks to the officers